

Firmware Update Information

Firmware Change History

| Version      | Category         | Detail                                                                                                                                    | Effect                                                                                                    |
|--------------|------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 06.98.XX19P4 | Security Bug Fix | Under certain conditions, the embedded web browser sends requests using the HTTP protocol instead of HTTPS, even when HTTP is restricted. | The embedded web browser now sends requests using the HTTPS protocol as expected when HTTP is restricted. |